

Orientation Meeting Three

Behavior Scenarios

Directions

Follow your leaders' instructions for this behavior scenarios activity.

1. You decide that you want to wear your favorite T-shirt and shorts instead of your People to People shirt and non-denim slacks on the plane. What will your leader do?
2. Your flight is delayed over four hours. What should you do? What shouldn't you do?
3. Another student isn't feeling well and asks you for some medication. What should you do? What shouldn't you do?
4. You and another student get separated from the group. What should you do? What shouldn't you do?
5. You have been really homesick for the last few days and are having a hard time sleeping at night. What should you do? What shouldn't you do?
6. Lunch is served and you are allergic to what is being served. What should you do? What shouldn't you do?
7. You are on the coach and the delegation manager wants to speak to your group. Students sitting around you are talking and not listening. What should you do? What shouldn't you do?

Continued on next page...

Orientation Meeting Three

Behavior Scenarios

8. The leaders informed the delegation that bed checks are at 10:00 p.m. and it is 9:55 p.m. You are in line to use the phone and there is one other student ahead of you. What should you do? What shouldn't you do?
9. Another student is talking about you on the motor coach and says some hurtful things that hurt your feelings. What should you do? What shouldn't you do?
10. You have a headache and don't feel well. Your parents have packed some Tylenol in your first aid kit. What should you do? What shouldn't you do?
11. A stranger on the street asks you for money to buy food. What should you do? What shouldn't you do?
12. You leave the hotel and realize that your brand new camera was left at the hotel. What should you do? What shouldn't you do?
13. When using public transportation, you and another student miss the train. What should you do? What shouldn't you do?
14. You notice that another student is depressed and has shared with you that he wants to hurt himself. What should you do? What shouldn't you do?